

Storeganizer sunumu

An isometric illustration of a warehouse interior. The scene is filled with various storage systems. On the left, there are tall metal pallet racks with multiple levels, each holding several wooden pallets stacked with cardboard boxes. Below the pallet racks, there are blue shelving units with many small compartments, some containing tools or small parts. A worker in red overalls is standing next to these shelves, reaching into one of the compartments. In the center, there are more stacks of cardboard boxes on pallets. A worker in red overalls is walking towards the right, carrying a box. In the background, a forklift is visible, and another worker is pushing a pallet jack with a load of boxes. The floor is light-colored with yellow safety lines. The overall scene depicts a well-organized and efficient storage environment.
